

KARNATAKA MODEL 100 DAYS

DELIVERED AS PROMISED

On the day, Shakti scheme was launched, emotions filled the air when Ningavva of Sangolli village in Belagavi district bowed to the entrance of the bus before boarding the bus.

GOVERNMENT WORK IS GOD'S WORK

Dr B.R. Ambedkar said “Political democracy rests on the foundation of social democracy. Social democracy is a way of life which recognizes liberty, equality and fraternity as principles of life. For political democracy to be strong, its foundation, social democracy, must be secure.”

Sri. Siddaramaiah
Chief Minister,
Government of Karnataka

Dr Ambedkar's wish is the wish of our government with an emphasis on building an equal society. Our government is now 100 days old. In these 100 days, our government has implemented important welfare schemes that have caught the attention of the nation in particular and world in general. We have implemented four of the 5 guarantee schemes that we had promised before the general elections. Yuva Nidhi scheme will also be launched soon.

We are spending around Rs 52,000 crores per year on these five welfare schemes for the people of Karnataka. Karnataka is the first state to transfer such a large amount of empowerment benefits directly to the people without any conditions, without any middlemen and without giving room for any corruption or malpractice. The main reason we implemented these schemes is that people are suffering, and their suffering should be alleviated as much as possible.

People were shaken by the tax burden and price rise. From cooking gas to petrol, diesel, rice, pulses, cooking oil, road toll, the prices have gone up across the board. Many economists have identified many Central government policies as the cause of this problem. In some taluks of the State, the per capita income of the people is not even 10 thousand rupees. Innumerable people depend on wage labour, animal husbandry etc. for their livelihood. In such a situation, we have come up with guaranteed plans of Rs 4000 to Rs5000 per month. Because of this welfare impetus, people's spending and purchasing power will increase and the economy will speed up.

Women, who make up half of the population, are oppressed for generations. An economy without empowered woman is unimaginable. But the Manuvadi mindset, women are not allowed to enjoy the fruits of labour. Women's labour participation rate is very low compared to that of many other countries of the world. Given this background, the four guarantee schemes we have designed are women-centric, bringing a great revolution in the lives of women.

We have designed these schemes with the hope that there will be a qualitative change in people's lives. Countries leading the Human Development Index are undertaking social development initiatives under the concept of 'Universal Basic Income'. The welfare programmes of these countries have attracted the attention of world economists. These countries have changed the definition of development. Roads, water, drainage, street lights, and well-planned infrastructure are as important as schools and health systems. The concept of universal basic income is a model of great development that creates a happy environment for people. In this background, we believe in Amartya Sen's premise that 'development is freedom' and we are implementing the same verbatim.

The day-to-day life of the people has been marred by corruption, violence and unrest in the name of caste and religion. It is for this reason that our government has taken up several cases for investigation in the fight against organized corruption. We have given a message to the anti-social forces that we will take strict action against those who take law in their hands. Our government believes in Pampa's motto 'Manushya Jati Tanonde Valam' (The entire mankind is one) and in the words of the National poet Kuvempu's wish of 'Sarva janangada shantiya thota' (a garden of peace for all people).

Our government has waged a war against hunger and malnutrition. Our motto is that no citizen of the country should sleep hungry. Indira Canteens are providing nutritious food to the underprivileged through these canteens. Our government provides eggs and other nutrition twice a week to school children.

We aim to improve the education system. As Kuvempu says, 'Our children must become nirankushamati (free-spirits).' We are making plans to change the situation where education is taught in such a way that the kid goes to the next class by encouraging critical thinking and developing intelligence, compassion and skills. Our government is of the opinion that society will be right only if the education is right.

Our government does not neglect the infrastructural development of the State by giving more importance to social development. Our government's core capex expenditure is in the areas of irrigation, roads, bridges, underground drainage, drinking water, power, transport, government buildings etc, as compared to any previous governments.

Our government is committed to the development of Karnataka including Kalyana Karnataka and other regions. Contributing to the development of the state and nation, the government is making plans to develop Bangalore under the concept of 'Brand Bangalore'.

Our government has taken all necessary steps to build a sustainable Karnataka model of development by encouraging agriculture, industry and service sectors under an integrated concept. Ministers in the government are talented, experienced and youthful. They are committed for the development of the state - inclusive development with emphasis on social justice.

This 100-day period has taught us many lessons. Despite the resource crunch, our government has successfully launched the promised guarantee schemes. We are delivering as we promised. We are implementing the 76 programmes mentioned in the election manifesto in this year's budget itself.

This book; 'Karnataka Model- 100 Days', which has been formulated by the Department of Information and Public Relations, and I hope that the information in this book will be able to reach everyone in the country efficiently and effectively, and that its purpose will be served in its true spirit.

It has been a hundred days since the Congress government came to power with the love, trust and expectation of the people of the State of Karnataka. In this journey of 100 days, our government has created hundreds of footprints and introduced the “Karnataka Model” to the country.

Our government has completed 100 days with an emphasis on socio-economic development, social justice and building a harmonious society. Our heartfelt thanks to all the citizens of the state who have stood with us on this occasion.

Our government is keeping its promise to the people of the state every day and every moment for these hundred days. Out of the five guaranteed schemes, four schemes namely Shakti, Gruha Lakshmi, Gruha Jyoti and Anna Bhagya have been implemented. Funds for all five projects have been earmarked in the budget. In addition to this, the government has announced the implementation of many programmes mentioned in our manifesto.

Our government had announced guarantee schemes to provide relief to the people who are reeling under price rise, unemployment and economic crisis. In spite of criticism that the implementation of our schemes is impossible, our government has implemented guarantee schemes and has silenced the critics. The people of the state have wholeheartedly welcomed the schemes of our government.

Our scheme is the model for the other states of the country. The chief ministers of those states have said that there is pressure to follow ‘Karnataka model’ of governance in their states as well. We are happy with this accomplishment within a short span of hundred days. The motivation for this is people’s welfare.

I am proud to say that in the entire political history of the country, only the Congress government of Karnataka has implemented so many pro-people programmes in the first hundred days of coming to power.

The Congress government has taken bold steps in all sectors including economic, social, educational and industrial sectors. This has also been praised by the public.

Along with all these initiatives, our government is determined to restore social harmony and make Karnataka a Garden of Peace for all communities. Our government is committed to maintaining law and order in the society.

I am very happy that our government has completed meaningful and successful journey of 100 days, I hereby congratulate the officers and staff for effectively delivering the schemes to the people and supporting the progressive action of the government..

We have just started our welfare journey, we still have a long way to go. I request you all to continue your cooperation, love and trust.

- Shri D.K. Shivakumar
Deputy Chief Minister,
Government of Karnataka

The first hundred days are very important for any government. It is an indication of what the future will look like. As Media Adviser to the Chief Minister, this mirror is being published as a result of your efforts. I would like to thank all the Media Co-ordinators working for various ministers, Planning and Statistics Department officers and Chief Minister's Media Branch Officers and Staff who provided the necessary information for preparation within this short time frame. I would like to express my congratulations to the officers and staff and technical assistants of the Department of Information & Public Relationship who have helped to put together all the figures of the government's achievements in last hundred days that have been provided to us, and have helped to organize them very quickly and neatly.

- KV PRABHAKAR
MEDIA ADVISER TO THE CHIEF MINISTER.

Gurantee Schemes

New definitions of Karnataka Model of Development

People of the State were in distress due to price rise, unemployment, communalism, partisan, corruption and other such reasons.

When compared to the previous term of our Government, we noticed that the per capita income of people in several districts of the State has not increased during last few years. Our Government took serious notice of this and formulated Gurantee schemes with a new economic formula of Universal Basic Income to empower people financially and socially.

In the cabinet meeting held on the first day of assuming office, the government gave in-principle approval for the implementation of the five guarantee schemes that we had promised before the election and we began launching the guarantee schemes within three weeks of the government coming to power.

ಕರ್ನಾಟಕ ಸರ್ಕಾರ

The “Shakti” scheme, which provides free bus travel facilities to women, students and transgenders, has in fact strengthened the empowerment of women in the State. An average of 50 to 60 lakh women are benefited by this every day. This project of ours has been widely studied and appreciated by national and international media. Shakti scheme has given new life to our economic power. So far, women have travelled for free on 38.54 crore trips.

Our second guarantee scheme is Griha Jyoti which offers free electricity up to 200 units. The scheme came into effect from July 1 and customers are getting the facility from August 1 bill. About 2 crore customers will benefit from this scheme, so far 1.49 crore customers have registered and are getting free electricity facility. This facility is also extended to tenants. We are spending Rs 13,910 crore annually for this.

Another guarantee scheme implemented by our government is 'Anna Bhagya' to realize the vision of hunger-free Karnataka. Despite the deliberate non-cooperation of the central government, our government is taking steps to provide 5 kg of food grains to each beneficiary in addition to the 5 kg of rice provided by the centre. The government has decided to transfer cash till the foodgrain procurement process starts. Under this, more than 4.42 crore beneficiaries are being benefited. State Government is spending Rs. 10 thousand crore annually. So far Rs 606 crore has been transferred to 3.70 crore members of 1.04 crore families through a DBT system.

Direct cash disbursement programs can provide the best solution for poverty alleviation. In this background, the state government is implementing the 'Griha Lakshmi' scheme. On August 30, the process of transferring Rs. 2000 per month to women's accounts is being initiated. So far 1.08 crore women head of the families have registered. From August 30, 1.08 crore household owners are receiving Rs 2000 each simultaneously. We are spending more than 30 thousand crores on this project alone.

This is the first time in the entire country that such a huge amount of money is being transferred to people's accounts without any conditions.

Physical Development

Social Development

There are two models for development: Physical Development and Social Development. The State government has considered the two models with equal importance. The development model we are creating is benefiting an average 1.30 crore families across the state. These beneficiaries will directly receive benefits of the government schemes directly without any intervention of middlemen. This model will boost women empowerment. This will define the Karnataka Model.

Our government is committed to spend more resources to provide basic amenities as against all previous governments.

Sources of the revenue and revenue generation are equally strong.

Programmes such as Kris-hi Bhagya, Anugraha Yojane, Vidyasiri, Indira Canteen, dis-bursal of scholarships to stu-dents of minority communities, among others, were effectively executed when the Congress government was in power in the past. However, these schemes were halted in the last few years.

Our government will reintroduce all such schemes.

“There are many theories on Economic Development. Economics states that making cash flow directly into poor’s pocket is also a model of development. Because poor will spend the money they get. Money with rich is not spent as their needs and wants are fulfilled. Economy growth depends on how much people are inclined to spend out of what they get. Therefore the sarcasm about “freebees” is not Economics; it is jealousy about the mandate poor people of the State gave in the elections.”

Private investment has been decreasing for some time and the only way to boost the economy therefore is to promote small amounts of private investments which happens when the poor people’s purchasing power increases, and the guarantee programs are going to do this. These programs therefore make economic sense:
